UC DAVIS HEALTH IS LEVERAGING TECHNOLOGY AND INNOVATION TO PROPEL HEALTHCARE INTO THE FUTURE

Innovation and technology are at the forefront of how UC Davis Health is strategically driving their organization to provide better care and enhance the well-span of its patients. Led by David Lubarsky, M.D., MBA, Vice Chancellor of Human Health Services and Chief Executive Officer, the organization is focused on utilizing technology to enable condition monitoring and change behaviors and needs of care.

In this episode, David Shulkin, M.D., A&M Healthcare Industry Group Senior Advisor, sits down with Dr. Lubarsky to learn more about his unique, technology-centric vision for care. Dr. Lubarsky outlines his plans for utilizing physician-centered digital enhancements to monitor the ongoing health of patients and leveraging a digital health coach to provide necessary steps for maintaining and monitoring health and wellness.

Dr. Lubarsky is an innovator. In this episode he shares his vision into the world of technological possibility.
