quick facts

- 20+ years of experience in international tax with deep multi-jurisdictional M&A experience
- Specialist in alternative lending, particularly for distressed positions
- Advisor on OECD compliance and reporting obligations to several Crown dependencies

Andy Murray is a Managing Director with Alvarez & Marsal Tax in London. He brings more than 20 years of experience in international tax, tax policy and investment banking, with a primary focus on private equity M&A and private credit markets.

Mr. Murray works with clients in the alternative credit, energy, telecommunications and retail sectors and has deep expertise and experience advising stakeholders on the international tax implications of their commercial operations.

Mr. Murray recently advised a €7.5 billion alternative credit fund on restructuring several of its distressed lending positions, including legal enforcement and conversion of its debt positions. He has also advised French and German energy groups on the potential divestment of their U.K. wholesale gas businesses and the governments of the Cayman Islands and the Turks and Caicos on their OECD compliance and reporting obligations.

Prior to joining A&M, Mr. Murray was a Managing Director at Kroll, where he led the transaction tax practice in the UK and Europe, the Middle East, and Africa. Previously, he was a Partner at Milestone International Tax Partners and a Director in the Investment Banking (Equity Capital Markets) practice at Lehman Brothers.

Mr. Murray earned bachelor's degrees in law and economics (first class honours) from the Victoria University of Wellington, New Zealand. He sits on the tax advisory committee of the Alternative Investment Management Association and is a member of the International Bar Association and International Fiscal Association.
